

NATURAL MAKEUP

Choosing to create a light and natural makeup can be the greatest and easiest option you have as naturalness has become highly praised since the past couple of seasons. Everyone knows that natural beauty cannot be topped and that this type of beauty cannot be created using makeup so why not try to subtly underline your best facial features. Use a foundation to create a flawless looking skin, enhance your eyes using mascara, apply a small amount of blush on your cheekbones to emphasize them and optionally apply a clear lip gloss on your lips to make them stand out. This type of makeup is perfect for any daytime occasion and matches absolutely everyone!

BOLD LIP MAKEUP

Most people consider the lips to be the most attractive part on a woman's body so why not emphasize this beauty using a bold colored lipstick! There are a variety of lipstick shades on the market but that doesn't mean that all of them suit the new trends. This year go for bold shades such as red, raspberry, orange and hot pink. Find the hue which suits your skin tone best. The cosmetic stands offer testers so you can test which shades offers your skin best advantages. This way you will be able to create the luscious lips you've always wanted.

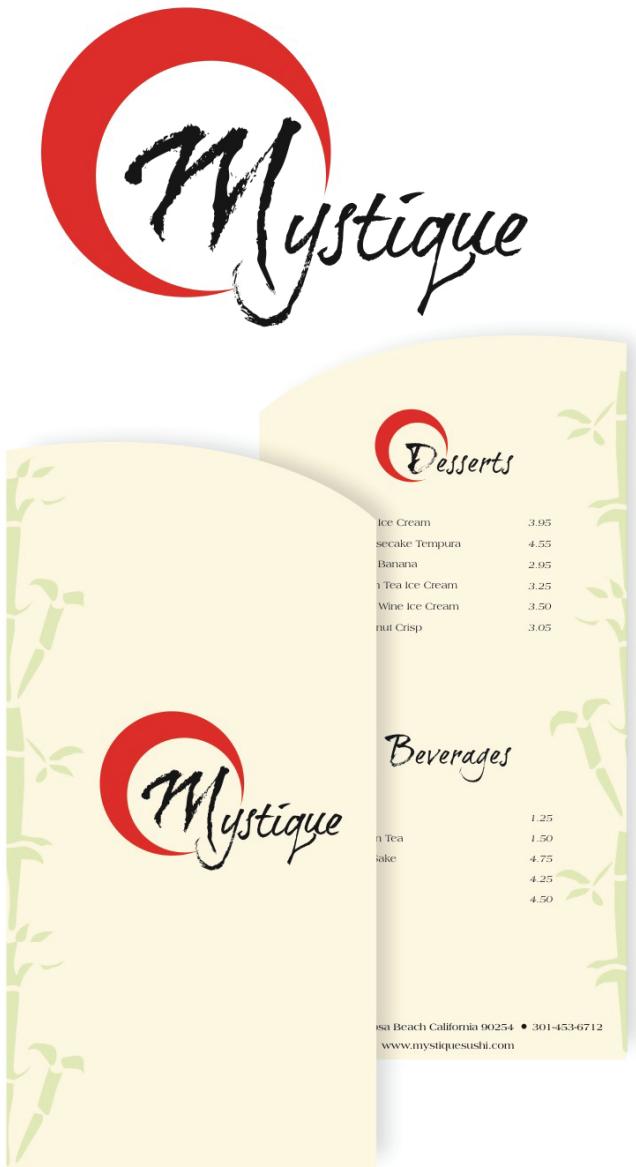

BOLD EYE MAKEUP

Not too long ago, it was advised to use either a bold colored eye makeup or a bold colored lipstick, not both at the same time but it seems that this new season this rule is out. Now you can choose to enhance the eyes, the lips or both, depending on personal style and preference. This type of bold makeup suits more formal, evening occasions so try to adapt the makeup to the time of day. You can use bold eyeshadow colors such as green, blue, orange, lavender, red, etc. as they all look amazing. Mascara and eyeliner are a must for this type of makeup so don't neglect their importance.

If you're not into using too much eyeshadow you can use an eyeliner or a smokey eye makeup to give the eyes a bold definition.

COLOR

PSYCHOLOGY

Orange

is a powerful attention grabber. It is warm. It is used on things like important traffic signs.

Green

can improve reading skills. Students may find it by placing a transparent sheet of green paper over reading material increases reading speed and comprehension.

Brown

is the color of the Earth. It is associated with all things natural or organic. It also gives a sense of orderliness.

Purple

is considered mystical and exotic because it is a color that is very rarely found in nature.

Blue

is the least appetizing color. Some did prefer eating off of blue plates. This is because blue is not found in nature and is the color of some molds.

Yellow

makes people feel a sense of joy and also stimulates the mind, which can make you more alert and decisive.

Red

can be used to stimulate the mind and body to increase circulation.

Where did the names come from?

Puce: the name describes the belly color of a flea.

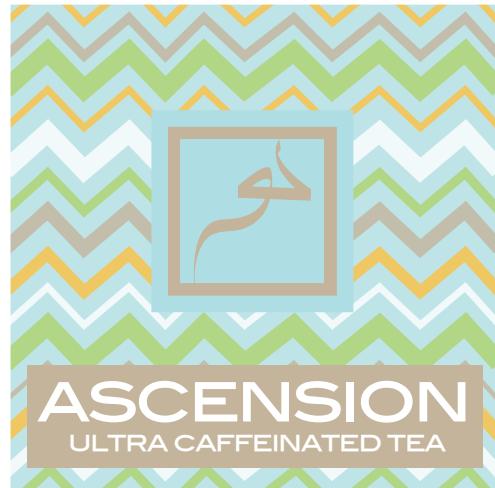

Bone: the name comes from Black color of charred bones.

Mummy: yes there was a color called mummy and it was made from parts of them. The Egyptians used asphaltum in their mummy recipes which is just asphalt mixed with turpentine and oils. Someone got the idea to break off pieces of mummy to make a pigment but after it was learned of this, the practice soon stopped.

Indigo: it is just a squashed up word that developed from a Greek word meaning 'from India'.
